The Story Thus Far:

While on an illegal hunting trip in Africa, billionaire playboy Alex Lowder encounters Dr. Saida Nri, a beautiful Nigerian doctor. Rather than risk prosecution, he kidnaps her and hatches a plan to win back control of the Lowder media empire after the death of his father. He devises ADRENALINE, a new reality TV program starring himself and Saida as leaders of two opposing teams. Tempted by the $4 million grand prize that could significantly benefit her health programs, Saida agrees to lead the blue team in the death-defying race across the globe. The teams are...

The Blue Team has won the first challenge in a race through San Francisco, but how long will they be able to hold on to their lead?

The Blue Team won the first challenge in a race through San Francisco, but it didn't last long. The Red Team overtook them during the scuba diving challenge off the Gulf Coast of Mexico, and in doing so, they left their teammate Magda in perilous danger. The blue team rescued her just in time. Now the race has taken on an element of revenge.
